

DEATH LIST STILL INCREASING

125,000 PEOPLE MAY HAVE PERISHED IN DISASTER

Earthquake and Tidal Wave Have Changed History of Italy

RELIEF WORK RUSHED

U. S. Consul and Many Americans Killed—King and Queen Assist in Relief Work.

Various estimates of the dead in the earthquake in Italy: Naval Commander in charge of the relief work—85,000. Reuter's correspondents—100,000. Premier Giolitti's representative—100,000. Government officials—from 60,000 to 125,000.

Some correspondents place the list of dead as high as 200,000, but this is believed to be entirely too high.

Rome, Dec. 30.—While there is no way yet of arriving at any more than an approximate estimate of the dead in Sicily and Calabria, it is evident that the disaster is the greatest in the world's history since a little more than two hundred years ago, when the sea and earth conspired to crush out the lives of 200,000 little brown men of Jeddo, near Tokio.

All disasters since that time, with the possible exception of the quake which wrecked Pekin in 1731, are overshadowed by the appalling blight that has fallen on the Italian and Sicilian coasts adjacent to the Strait of Messina.

Palermo, Dec. 30.—Queen Helena almost swooned from grief on arriving at Messina today where the scene she encountered was far more gruesome than her gravest fears had led her to expect.

Medical assistance was necessary to revive her and it was some time before she and King Emmanuel could undertake the work of directing the relief.

Both the king and queen wept. Scores of almost insane survivors crowded around the king and queen when they arrived, and threw themselves in the mud screaming in horror.

The queen was terror-stricken and clung to the king. Many of the people tried to kiss the hands of the king and queen, and prayed to them as though they were saints. It was with difficulty that the king finally controlled his emotions and set out upon the work of directing the relief and rescue.

Messages received today from the warships at Messina say the rescuers are utterly swamped and that it will require days to effect an adequate relief system. The refugees are thickly scattered for leagues in every direction. Before the work of relief can in any great measure meet the needs of the people, it seems certain that the weaker element of the population—mostly the children and old people—will fall by the hundreds from hunger and exposure. Pneumonia and meningitis have already broken out in Messina.

Catanzaro, Dec. 30.—A captain of carabinieri, who arrived here today from Reggio says that the sea now covers the city. Not a building was left in the town he says.

"The town was not swallowed up by the earth, as at first reported," the captain said, "but the sea rolled in a mighty wall of water and engulfed it. I don't think more than a few hundred escaped out of the entire population."

No news has been received up to this hour from any of the Americans who

ENGLAND'S POOR FREEZING AND STARVING.

London, Dec. 30.—The severest weather known in England in years has brought the unemployed situation to a most alarming stage. The official figures give the total of those receiving aid from the various charities throughout England as 826,345. The charitable institutions are completely overtaxed and the streets and parks are filled with scantily clad starving men, women and children. Unable to secure money to pay their rent whole families by the thousands are thrown daily upon the streets by merciless landlords. The homeless ones throng the streets during the day and huddle in doorways and parks during the night. The temperature has been below freezing each night and the spectacle of these families, ragged and starving, with the mute appeal of boundless animals in their eyes, beggars' description.

were in Messina. It may be several days before definite information concerning them is obtained, but American residents here say the utter absence of news is ominous. They fear the Americans suffered the common fate.

The bullets of the soldiers have failed to save the looters in many places and they continue to prey upon and murder the helpless survivors.

Deputies are arriving in Rome today for a special session of parliament to vote relief measures for the sufferers. The pope, almost prostrated, insists that his "place" is with the sufferers, and were it not for the positive warning of his doctors he would leave the Vatican at once. The pope is spending most of the time in praying for "his afflicted people."

Inquiries are pouring in from all over the world for information concerning the tourists who were in the affected region. The same answer is being returned to all: "No definite information yet obtainable."

Trainloads of Messina survivors are reaching this city. Most of them are fearfully wounded. Many who were placed on the trains at a point twelve miles outside Messina, the nearest approach to the stricken city, died while enroute to Palermo.

Catania, Dec. 30.—The thick layer of mud that covers Messina is still yielding its harvest of dead, according to reports reaching here today. Heaps of dead are piled in the streets and the scenes enacted by the horror-stricken people beggar description.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Two thousand dollars contributed by leading Italians here was cabled to Minister of Foreign Affairs Tittoni for distribution through the Italian Red Cross society to the earthquake sufferers. The Illinois branch of the Red Cross society has begun to collect funds for the earthquake sufferers.

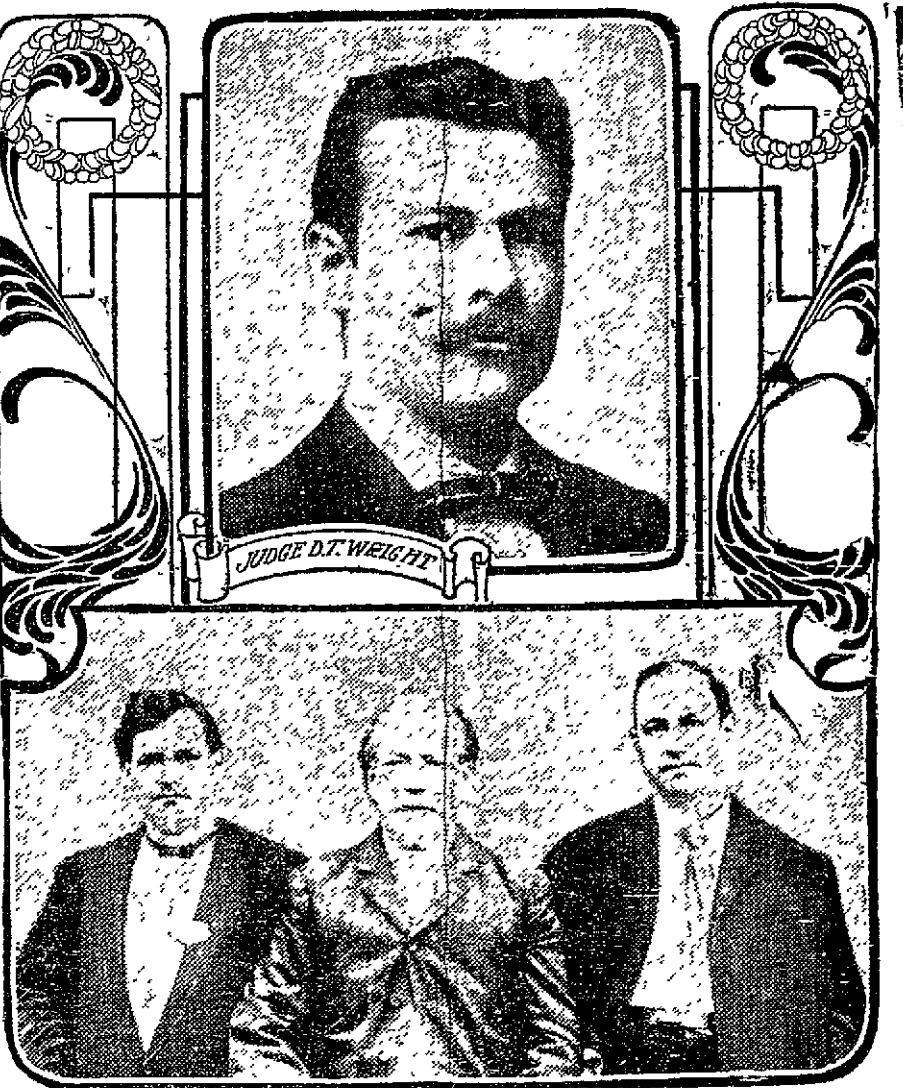

New York, Dec. 30.—The Italian consul general, the Italian chamber of commerce and the Italian Red Cross have taken the work of relief in charge. Several New York newspapers have started funds and contributions are pouring in.

Tammany Hall, through its general committee, today contributed $200 to the relief fund. The Italian chamber of commerce is considering the abandonment of its annual banquet, planned for next February, and the appropriation to the relief fund of the money that would be expended on that occasion, a sum of about $500.

Little Italy's poorest residents have contributed from their scanty boards, and $5,000 is said to have been raised in that quarter already.

New York's "Little Italy," crushed by the terrible disaster in the mother country, will not hold its usual celebration of the New Year, instead of the gay throng (Continued on Page 8, Column 4.)

JUDGE D. T. WRIGHT AND THE LABOR LEADERS WHOM HE SENTENCED TO PRISON

District Judge Who Has Frequently Visited Relatives in This City

Case Is Now Before Court of Appeals Awaiting Its Decision

In the above cut is shown Judge D. T. Wright of the District Court of Washington, D. C., who sentenced the three labor leaders, Morrison Gompers and Mitchell to jail for contempt of court. The three men shown in the cut, reading from left to right, are Morrison, Gompers and Mitchell.

Judge Wright is a brother of W. S. Wright, president of the Jewett Car Works, and also of Mrs. Edwin Besuden, both of whom reside on Hudson avenue. The judge has frequently visited his brother and sister in this city and is well known to many Newark residents.

The story of the contempt case is still fresh in the minds of the Advocate readers. Samuel Gompers, president, Frank Morrison, secretary, and John Mitchell, vice president, were found guilty of contempt of court in connection with the Buck Stove and Range company case and on Wednesday, December 23, were sentenced to twelve, nine and six months respectively. The case grew out of the publication in the American Federationist, in its "Unfair List," of the name of the Buck Stove and Range company of St. Louis, against whom the union men had a grievance.

All factions of labor unionists are rallying to the support of Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell, and meetings of union labor bodies in many cities have adopted resolutions denouncing the action of the court of the District of Columbia as "a part of a general movement against free speech."

President Roosevelt has asked for the papers in the case and is believed to be planning some action. It is almost an assured fact that he will render no opinion on the matter until the Court of Appeals renders a decision, the case having been carried to that court.

Criticizing a United States court is a serious matter but there is one point in respect to the contempt case which could be made with perfect propriety. There is a marked contrast between the extraordinary success gained in the case by a private corporation with private counsel in enforcing the Sherman law as compared with the many failures of the United States government with its unlimited resources and its innumerable attorneys.

conclusion that the field is so divided that there is room for dark horses without number.

It is said for Harding that he is not entered in the interests of any other candidate now in the race and that he proposes to make a fight to win. The district spoken of is composed of Union, Marion, Hardin and Logan counties. It has one Senator and four representatives, but one of them is a Democrat, representing Hardin county.

COUNT LOSES HIS SUIT

Paris, Dec. 30.—Count Boni de Castellane's suit against his former wife, Princess de Sagan, nee Anna Gould, was decided this morning adversely to the plaintiff. The princess retains the custody of the three boys.

DIED OF GANGRENE. Lancaster, Dec. 30.—Frank Brown aged 62, a retired farmer, died yesterday of gangrene. A sister, Mrs. Frank Oger, and a son, Charles Brown, live in Columbus.

POLECAT SMOTHERS FOX. Pottstown, Pa., Dec. 30.—Escaping from the dogs in a chase held by the Puchtown Chester County Hunt yesterday, a fox made the fatal mistake of taking refuge in a skunk hole. When found he was dead from suffocation, while the polecat was as frisky as ever.

CONGRESSMAN ASHEROOK TO SPEAK AT BANQUET. Canal Dover, Dec. 30.—Arrangements have been completed for the

SWISHER HOME ROBBED OF $1,000 WORTH OF DIAMONDS

WILL BE NO MORE ARRESTS AT PRESENT.

Pittsburg, Dec. 30.—Pittsburg councilmen are going to stand by their seven fellow members, who are charged by the Voters' League with accepting bribes. This was proven conclusively when council assembled for the first time since the arrests were made, incidentally the expected arrests of other councilmen did not mature, despite the fact that Police Superintendent McQuade and County Chief of Detectives Waggoner attended the meetings. It was just a week ago that the "big six" of common and a member of select councils were arrested as a starter for what was promised to be one of the most sweeping crusades in the history of the Smoky City. The additional arrests have been expected daily. Now comes Dist. Attorney Blakely with the declaration that there will be no more arrests for at least ten days.

21st annual banquet of the Twin City Jackson club, which will be held at Uhrichville on Friday evening, January 8. There are 24 toasts on the program, the speeches being limited to 10 minutes each. Congressman W. A. Ashbrook will respond to the toast, "The Old Soldier."

RUN DOWN BY TRAIN. Hamden Junction, Dec. 30.—A telegram was received by relatives here, announcing that Geo. F. Petty, a native of Hamden, was run down and killed by a freight train at Indianapolis, where he was employed as a switch tender.

MASONIC TEMPLE DEDICATED. Troy, Dec. 30.—The new Masonic temple was dedicated here yesterday by Charles S. Hoskinson, most worshipful grand master, the ceremonies commencing at 2 o'clock. Hundreds of Masons from the county were present. At 6 o'clock a banquet was held.

YOUNG GIRL

Enticed Away From Home and Rescued by Mother—Man Responsible Fined $10 and Costs.

Tuesday morning a woman giving her name as Mrs. Frances Frederick, arrived here from Pittsburg, in a very excited condition of mind. She immediately went before the Probate court where she made affidavit that her fourteen-year-old daughter, Ethel May Frederick, had been enticed away from her home in Pittsburg by Wm. Davidson, and that they were in Newark.

Probate Judge Brister issued a warrant for their arrest and they were brought into court by Probation Officer Sheridan. Davidson entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of enticing the girl away from her home, but Judge Brister was satisfied that he was guilty and fined him $10 and the costs and gave him a scathing lecture. He also delivered a fatherly lecture to the girl and sent her home with her mother.

Burglar Entered Through Window and Ransacked Mrs. Swisher's Dresser

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL

Swisher Chauffeur Held at City Prison for Investigation by Police Officials.

A good haul was made at the home of John Swisher, 73 Hudson avenue, some time Tuesday afternoon or evening, when a dresser belonging to Mrs. Swisher was rifled of three rings, a necklace and a brooch, all set with diamonds and valued at almost $1,000. A chauffeur of Mr. Swisher's, Harry Lowint, a Belgian, is held at the city prison for investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Swisher had been riding in the afternoon, and returned home for the 6 o'clock dinner. After the meal Mr. Swisher went up stairs and was followed a little later by his wife, who entered her room. Mr. Swisher was attracted to her side by her screaming, and found her room looking as though a cyclone had struck it.

Nothing was scattered over the floor, and the jewels she had hid under a shirt waist in the dresser drawer, when she went for the ride, were missing. A pocketbook in another drawer had not been touched.

Mr. Swisher immediately telephoned for the police and Chief Zergel and Sheriff Redman responded to the call. Upon their arrival they found everything in the utmost confusion. Their investigation showed that a window opening upon a north porch was open, and it is the supposition that the burglar gained entrance at this point. The window is in the room of Carl Swisher, and this thief probably passed through this room on his way to Mrs. Swisher's apartments.

The chauffeur when informed of the burglary, started for his room in the stable, saying he would get his gun. In a few moments he returned with the information that his private effects had been ransacked and that the gun, a .44 Colts, which he always kept in a bureau, he found upon his bed.

His actions were suspicious and after a consultation with Sheriff Redman, Chief Zergel, called Officers Burke and Chester and the young Belgian was taken to the city prison in the patrol and slated for investigation.

Although a light rain was falling, Mr. Swisher requested that bloodhounds be secured, and Sheriff Redman telephoned the sheriff at Lancaster and R. D. Miller and Frank Wilkins with two of the man hunters were hurried to Newark.

The dogs, "Jake" and "Si Regi" famous for their keen scent and ability to trail criminals, are interesting animals and have had experience in many cases. "Jake" became famous when he was used to trail Ben Dickerson, the Coshocton man who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Hughes, and finally landed him behind the bars and eventually in the penitentiary. "Si Regi" has also placed several men in the penitentiary on different charges. His greatest case was the landing of a (Continued on Page 8, Column 6)

FORTUNE

Found in Dead Man's Trunk Will Amount to $44,000 in Currency and Securities.

Cincinnati, Dec. 30.—When an old trunk was opened by the coroner, in an attempt to discover the relatives of John Ford Vaux, aged 73 years, who dropped dead while taking a bath yesterday in the rooming house on Broadway, where he lived, currency, government bonds and bank securities worth more than $44,000 were discovered. There was also found a letter from Harriet C. Spence, 1913 South St. Bernard's road, Philadelphia, who seemed from a phrasing to be a cousin of the dead man and a telegram was sent her, notifying her of it.

ANOTHER MINE DISASTER RESULTS IN DEATH OF 50

Maybury, W. Va., Dec. 30.—Fatalities in the Lick branch mine as a result of yesterday's explosion, will probably reach 50. This morning the mine officials admitted 30 were buried under the debris all thought to be dead. The mine foreman insists that 41 men are still entombed. Forty-two have already been taken from the mine and 12 of these were dead. It is believed between 100 and 150 were in the mine at the time of the explosion.

ABE RUEF

Sentenced to Fourteen Years in Penitentiary—San Francisco News Given Maximum Sentence.

San Francisco, Dec. 30.—Fourteen years in the penitentiary, the maximum sentence provided for bribery of a supervisor, was the penalty meted out last night to Abraham Ruef, who for years has directed the political destinies of San Francisco as advisor of the administration of Eugene F. Schmitz, former mayor of the city.

GOV. HARMON'S POPULAR SELECTION FOR HIS PRIVATE SECRETARY

Governor-elect Harmon has certainly pleased the great mass of the Ohio Democracy in the choice he has made in the person of ex-Senator George S. Long, of Troy, for his private secretary.
The selection shows the splendid judgment of the man whom the people of this state, in their wisdom,
have chosen for their chief executive.
It shows that Judson Harmon, in choosing the people have placed their trust in his Governor, possesses in the highest degree the faculty and ability to fulfill every expectation of peculiar qualifications that make him the private secretary of a great state like Ohio. George S. Long possesses

the broadest sense.
He has a staunch personal friend in the person of Sam L. Miller, who served in the state senate in the last general assembly.
The advocate representative meeting
on Wednesday morning
will hear what he thought of the Governor's appointment.

I wish to congratulate Governor
Harmon on his wise selection," said
Mr. Miller. "I have known Senator Long for some time and I can assure you that a more worthy selection could not have been made. I understand that he was not an aspirant for the honor, and the appointment
being unsolicited is certainly a kind acknowledgment of that gentleman's able qualifications.

Mr. Long is a lawyer of ability, an able gentleman and left a splendid record in the Ohio senate. Judge Harmon has displayed excellent judgment in making his first appointment in the addition of Mr. Long to the Governor's official family cannot be otherwise than productive of good results.

"You can say for me," continued
Mr. Miller, "that if the appointments which are to follow are made along the same line, the forthcoming administration of Ohio's new chief executive will be one of the best in the history of our state."

THE PANAMA BLUNDER.

It will be remembered that a commission of civil engineers was created some three years ago to study and report upon the question of a Panama canal with locks or upon a sea level.
The commission, it will be further remembered, consisted of five foreign experts of experience, named by their own Governments and seven Americans selected by President Roosevelt. After a prolonged investigation the five foreigners and three of the Americans reported in favor of a sea-level canal. The Senate was evidently inclined to favor the majority report. But President Roosevelt, with customary self-will, put his foot down, and the report of the minority for a canal with locks was adopted amid much misgiving as to its practicability.

Since then one of the engineers of the minority has come around to the majority, and President-elect Taft is going on January 25 to Panama with a corps of engineers to investigate the question once more whether the work that is done, shall not be undone or abandoned, and the plan of the majority of engineers for a sea-level canal adopted at last.

There will be no occasion for pardon or mitigation of the sentences of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison before the question of their guilt is fully determined. There may be no need for them to ask pardon for what they have conceived to be no violation of the law in exercising the freedom of speech.

Probably John D. may have expressed some surprise that his friend Gompers was not condemned to pay a fine of $29,240,000 instead of being sentenced to undergo a twelve month's imprisonment.

It is remarkable how small is becoming the number of people who still believe that the foreigner pays the tariff for the privilege of trading in this country. One tariff superstition is dying after another; but they are dying hard.

STEEL TARIFF MUST COME DOWN

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)
We may venture to doubt that if
Mr. Carnegie had the power to sit down and write the tariff he would go the full length that some of his utterances indicate. Sound judgment will not be likely to indorse the wiping out of all duties on iron and steel. But that Mr. Carnegie's force and authority will be regarded by a large share of the public as justifying a material reduction of the duties may as well be recognized.

THIS AND THAT

Happy New Year! There—we said
it first.

After tomorrow the boys will have to do the proposing themselves.

Don't make many resolutions—just one or two and then stick to them.

The January sales are starting in December. Keep your eye on the Newark merchants and upon what they are saying in their advertisements.

"Pick-me-up" tells of a well matched couple—a vegetarian and a grass widow.

The man who invented the gas meter died the other day, but his invention will run forever.

Who was it that described the President as a cross between St. Paul and St. Vitus?

Judge prints a story of a lad who begged his father to buy him a microbe to help in the study of mathematics. The boy had heard that microbes multiply rapidly.

The Paris correspondent of the Automobile (New York) estimates that not less than 350 aeroplanes are now under construction in or near the French capital. We shall all be high fliers after a while.

The earth has two motions—revolving on its axis and going in its orbit around the sun annually, but this isn't the reason some people have to hang to a lamp-post to retain their perpendicularity.

Abraham Lincoln, Frederick Chopin,
Wm. E. Gladstone, Edgar Allan Poe,
Charles R. Darwin, Alfred Tennyson,
F. Mendelssohn, Oliver Wendell
Holmes, Edward Fitzgerald, Fannie Kemble, actress, Hannibal Hamlin, vice president, Jules Favre, French statesman, Kn. Karson, pioneer, are among the celebrated people who were born in 1809. The coming year will be called "The Centenary of the Year of Genius."

Which is the more miserable—the woman who got no Christmas present or the one upon whom was thrust a hideous "work of art" or what not that she didn't want? A new red stamp for the best answer.

Kate Clyde says the most popular woman in the world is not she who makes the most friends but the fewest enemies, and Kate usually knows.

Home Course In Modern Agriculture

I.—How a Seed Starts to Grow

By C. V. GREGORY,
Agricultural Division, Iowa State College
Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association

A SEED is a simple thing to look at. It might as well be a pebble or a grain of sand for all there seems to be to it.
Only a bean, you say, yet there's a great deal more to that bean than you ever dreamed of.

Take a bean—just an ordinary white bean out of the pantry—and look at it.
The smooth white outer covering is the seed coat. It is almost watertight and is a protection for the parts that lie within. On one side you will notice a very conspicuous spot. This is the seed scar and is the place where the little stem that fastened the bean to the pod was attached. Near one end of the seed scar, or hilum, as the botanists call it, is a small round hole, the micropyle. If you put a bean in water it will soon begin to swell because of the water which it absorbs
through the micropyle.

Now, take a bean that has been soaked for a few hours. The seed coat will come off easily. The part of the bean that is inside is found to be split in two lengthwise. These two halves are called cotyledons, which is only another name for seed leaves. Spread the cotyledons apart carefully.
If you look closely you can see a little plant tucked snugly away between them. Just to one side of the middle is a small stem, the caulicle. Fastened to it is the plumule, a tiny bunch of leaves so small that you may have difficulty in making them out. Farther on, at the end of the bean, is the stubby root, or radicle.
These different parts are found in every seed, no matter how small.

Now that you have seen what is in the bean, examine a pumpkin seed in the same way. It is much the same inside as the bean, only flatter. The hilum is at the pointed end, and the plumule is so small that you may not be able to see it at all. In these two seeds there are only two main parts, the seed coat and the little plant. By far the greater part of the room inside
the seed coat is taken up by the fleshy seed leaves.

Now let us look at a different kind of a seed. Take a kernel of corn that has been soaked for several hours and cut it in two lengthwise the narrow way. The back of the grain is made up in part of a hard, flinty substance and in part of a white, mealy layer. A large part of the front of the kernel is taken up by the soft, oily germ.

Look at the cut section of the germ carefully. The little plant can be made out very plainly. The little pointed stem which points upward and outward is the cotyledon. There is only one cotyledon in corn instead of two, as in the other seeds you have examined. If you will take a cotyledon of a corn plant that has been left in a warm place until it has commenced to grow and cut it in two lengthwise you will see that the inside is packed with layers of tiny leaves ready to unfold as soon as their turn comes. This is the plumule. The other parts of the little corn plant you will be able to make out with little trouble.

You have doubtless been wondering what the rest of the kernel, the part back of the germ, is for. While it is not a part of the plant itself, it is of very great use to it, as we shall see.
The little plant when it begins to grow must have food. At first it has no roots to get this food from the soil, so it must get its nourishment from some other source. This source is the part of the kernel outside of the germ itself, or the endosperm. In the pumpkin seed and the bean the endosperm
and the cotyledons are the same—that is, the food material is stored in the large, fleshy seed leaves.

This food material consists largely of starch and oil. Neither of these can be used by the developing plant without first being changed to a liquid form. This is one of the reasons why seeds will not germinate without water. The other reason is that the water is needed to soften the seed coat so the plant can get out. But this starch and oil will not dissolve in water without first being changed to a soluble form. This is accomplished by means of ferments called enzymes. If you will put a piece of starch on your tongue for a moment you will find that it will begin to taste sweet. This is because the ferments in the saliva are changing it to sugar. The enzymes in the endosperm work in much the same way, changing the starch and oil to sugar and other soluble substances.
These are dissolved by the water and go to feed the growing plant.

These enzymes cannot work without air and warmth. You already know that a seed will not germinate in cold ground, and if you will put some beans in a glass of water and leave them for several days you will find that they will not germinate, no matter how warm they are kept, because they cannot get air. The reason is that without both air and warmth the enzymes cannot prepare the food for the plant, and if it cannot get food of course it cannot grow.

After the plant has started to grow
the seed coat is no longer of any use to it. In some plants, such as corn, the little plant finds its way out very easily. The little pumpkin plant, with its heavy coat, has a harder time. Indeed, were it not for a little contrivance with which nature has provided it it could not get out at all. This is a tiny hook on the lower end of the seed. This hook catches on the end of the seed coat and peels it back as nearly as you take off your coat.
Watch for this in a germinating pumpkin or squash seed and see if you cannot notice it. In some seeds, like hickory nuts, the plant is unable to get out until the seed coat is cracked by the frost or in some other way.

We have seen that a seed cannot start to grow unless it has moisture, warmth and air. It not only needs
these, but it needs them in the proper proportions. In a light, sandy soil moisture is often lacking, and the seed is slow in germinating for this reason. In such a soil growth will start more quickly if the soil is packed tightly around the seed. The seed will soak up moisture more rapidly if the particles of soil are in close contact with it on all sides. Packing down the soil in the row with the flat side of a hoe or with a board or with the broad, flat planter wheels in the field helps the seed to absorb moisture and so hastens germination.
In a heavy, sticky clay soil there is usually plenty of moisture, but air is often lacking. If such a soil is packed down too tightly over the seed the particles are forced so closely together
that very little air can get through,
and hence germination is delayed. In a soil of this kind seeds should never be planted very deeply.

The most important factor of all is warmth. A cold soil may have moisture and air in exactly the right amounts, and still the seed will not start to develop. Even if it does begin to grow progress will be slow, and the plant will have a weak, unhealthy look. It is of the utmost importance to wait until the seed bed is warm before planting the seed. Many seeds which would rot or produce only spindling stalks if planted in a cold soil will grow into strong plants if planting is delayed until the soil has become warm. Any seed will make a stronger, better producing plant if it has a warm seed bed to start from.
The rapidity with which soil will warm up in the spring depends a great deal upon the nature of the soil itself.
A sandy soil warms up quickly because the air can get down into it easily, thus warming it all the way through at once. Another reason for the higher temperature of sandy soil is its greater dryness. As long as water is evaporating rapidly the ground
will be cold. The process of evaporation requires a great deal of heat.

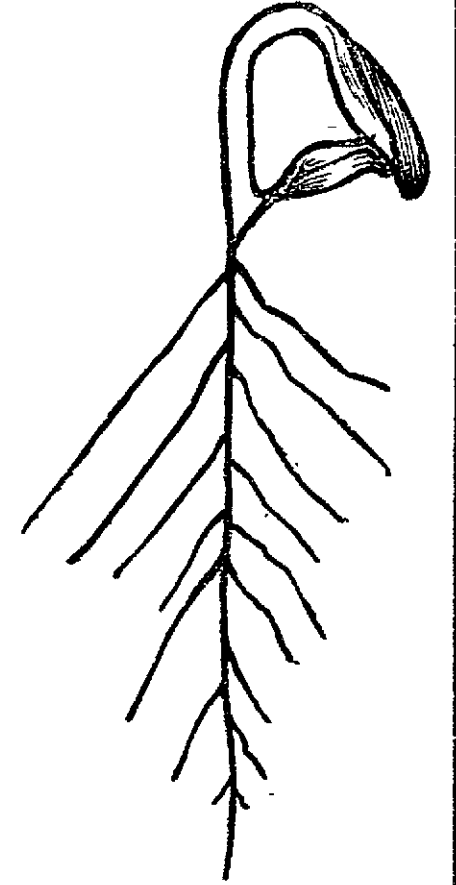

FIG. I.—A LITTLE
BEAN PLANT.

We can help the soil to become warm in the spring, then, by doing all that we can to check evaporation. Did you ever notice how quickly the surface of a wet field became dry after it had been harrowed? This is because stirring and loosening the soil stops
the water from coming up from below. The water in the loose upper layer soon evaporates, and after that the heat is used in warming the soil
instead of turning the water into vapor. Of course if we are not going to allow the surplus water to be given off
by evaporation we must provide fire
drains and ditches to carry it away.
We shall study more about drainage
and the movement of water through the soil in another article.

AMUSEMENTS

THE PRESS AGENT SAYS:
This is the picture of a man so well known to Newark theatergoers that it is unnecessary to attach his cognomen. He is also so popular that every time he appears on the stage of his popular little theater, the Orphnum, he receives as much, if not more applause than most of the acts on the bill. He is now announcing his program for the latter part of the present week, including a special New Year's matinee and the regular matinees also.

The opening act for Thursday is James Thomas, the musical scissors grinder, in one of the most novel musical acts ever seen in Newark.

Cowley and Delle, comedy singers and dancers, follow, and then comes a man whom every body in Newark has seen and liked—Shorty Edwards, the "mimable midget," who was a great favorite at the Orphnum when with "Simple Simon Simple."

The closing act is the Holland and Webb company in "The Silver Sword," a legitimate drama which occupies the stage for 32 minutes, and is heralded as one of the best that has been presented to Newark theatergoers in many years.

Manager Moore states that he will introduce a new song, "I Would Live or I Would Die for You," and the performance will close with the latest life motion pictures.

In the cast of "The Royal Chef" which will be here for two performances at the Auditorium theater, many of the principals, who have worked conscientiously to assist the "Chef" to the prominence it has attained, are still with the company. A new prima donna too, is Miss Mary Malatesta, who has a fresh, pure voice and sings as if for the love of singing. She possesses a demure ingratiating manner that is charming, has the acting style and a cultivated pronunciation as well. She will be favorably remembered.

The date is New Year's matinee and night.

Much of the success of "Ma's New Husband" is said to be due to its plot and to the dextrous handling of a maze of side-splitting situations. The scene of all the mirth and melody is laid in the Chicago home of a rich old sport bachelor, Culpepper. His cousin, Maria Longfellow, has recently lost her husband. Culpepper had loved her in the old days and writes her to come on from New York and take charge of his home. His letter arrives in the nick of time to save Maria from visions of starvation, as she has just been eaten out of house and home and furniture by a lot of impecunious actors. One of these actors, Herbert Short by name, has captured her heart. Maria brings Short along to Chicago and as Culpepper has never seen her little boy, Willie, a lad of 14, it is agreed that Short will impersonate that youthful darling. His escapades with Dorothy, the housemaid, with Mrs. Dickles, a guest, with Madame Haliday, a vocal teacher, with a venerable tutor and the old humbug, Mr. Hooker, and indeed with every character in the play afford little time for sanity or straight faced demeanor. The musical numbers include all the new and popular songs, solos, duets, quartets, and choruses, together with pleasing dancing numbers.

At the Auditorium Saturday matinee and night.

MUTUAL FIRE ASSOCIATION.

The officers elected by the Licking County Patrons Mutual Fire Association for the ensuing year are as follows:

President—E. C. Aispach, Vanatta.
Secretary—O. B. Young, Newark.
Directors—A. W. Horner, D. D. Snyder and L. M. Shipley.

The association has added $18,000 of a net gain during the year and paid losses and expenses at the rate of 75 cents per thousand and enters the new year with bright prospects.

AN ITCHING PALM

No Cure for It—Other Forms of Itching Preferable.

There is no cure for an itching palm—the money kind. Even poslam, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to eczema, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, poslam will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with hives, rash, scabies, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Poslam comes in two-dollar jars but fifty cents' worth will answer in curing any of the diseases mentioned. It can be had of any druggist. Frank D. Hall makes a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be amply demonstrated overnight by the use of the experimental samples which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, will send free by mail, in plain wrapper, to any one who will write for it.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES BEGIN ON JAN. 3D

REVS. R. W. AND BERTHA J. HARRIS WILL CONDUCT MEETINGS IN NEWARK.

Ordial Invitation Extended All Citizens to Attend Services Beginning Next Sunday Morning.

A series of evangelistic services will be held at the First Congregational Church, next Sunday, January 3. The services will be conducted by Revs.

In Cincinnati for nearly nine years, where they did great work. They were called to the evangelistic work in the fall of 1907. Since that time they have had splendid success wherever they have been. A few weeks ago they were at West Williamsfield, where over seventy were added to the church. They come here from Columbus where about fifty joined the church as a result of their work. Mrs. Harris can preach in Bohemian as well as in English.

The First Congregational church is located on North Fourth street, between Locust and High streets. A cordial invitation is extended to all the citizens of Newark to attend these services. Their will be heart-stirring singing, good fellowship, and important questions will be discussed. The services on Sunday will be at

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT Y. M. C. A. WILL BE INTERESTING

Open House Will be Kept from Morning Until Night—Various Entertainments for the Day.

Arrangements for the New Year's Day at the Y. M. C. A. are moving right along. Mr. Harvey Leist, chairman of social work, is in general charge, and is being actively supported by J. F. Callander, Chas. Osborn, Howard Stevens and a score of others.

The sons of Daniel Boone are building a log cabin on the top floor that is going to prove interesting to everybody. This "order" of boys promises to be one of the liveliest things in the association. A relic room is to be a feature and already Misses Osborn and Smith have some rare things for exhibition.

Of course there must be some fun, and one thing in this line will be the "Lone Art Gallery," where all the old masters can be seen. Some are done in oil and some are not, but there is no denying the art part of it.

The gymnasium will be a lively place that day and the entertainment at night will be all right. The hours are as follows:

Boys reception (boys 12 to 16), 9:30 to 11 a. m.

General reception to all friends (adults), 2 to 5:30.

Open house to Newark employed men and their friends, 7 to 10 p. m.

Can't you eat, sleep or work? Bad liver? Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea makes rich, red blood, gives strength and health, relieves when others fail. No cure no pay. 35 cents. Tea or tablets.—W. A. Erman & Son.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHILDREN OF SUNDAY SCHOOL

Splendid Program Rendered at Second Presbyterian Church and Fine Turkey Supper Served.

An entertainment for the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church was held in the church Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and was attended by a large number of the parents and friends of the Sunday school. The entertainment, which consisted of recitations, music, exercises, etc., was a most enjoyable one and was greatly appreciated. Among those who delivered recitations were Martha Grace Miller, Paul Nanagan, Frederick Day, Frederick Woodbridge, Clarence Kussmann, Dorothy Wilson, Elizabeth East, Helen McMillen.

A feature of the evening was the cornet solo by James Frazer, a son of the Y. M. C. A. secretary, while the exercises by the little girls of Miss Ankele's class were much enjoyed. During the exercises, Rev. Mr. Cosgrove, pastor of the church, awarded diplomas to scholars of the Sunday school for attendance for one or more years and to Helen Banton and Eugene Knauber for eight successive years of attendance.

At the conclusion of the exercises a turkey supper was served in the basement of the church, at which 257 sat down. Teachers of the Sunday school served and no one went away hungry. It was one of the most successful entertainments ever given by the Sunday school of this church.

WEDDINGS

STINER-McFADDEN.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the manse of the Second Presbyterian church, Mr. Fred H. Stiner and Miss Anna L. McFadden were united in marriage by Rev. T. A. Cosgrove.

Mr. Stiner is a gas driller employed in Utica and Mrs. Stiner formerly was a teacher in the school's there. Mr. and Mrs. Stiner will reside in Utica where they have the best wishes of a host of friends.

WILL ENTERTAIN FELLOW MEMBERS WITH BANQUET

Councilman W. D. Fulton to be Host to Swell New Year's E. Spread. Newspaper Men Will be Present.

The city officials of Newark, including the heads of the various departments, members of the City Council, and city hall reporters, will be entertained by Councilman W. D. Fulton with an elaborate banquet, Thursday evening, New Year's eve, at the Kuster cafe, the affair being in charge of Councilman J. S. Kuster's corps of trusty caterers.

Councilman Fulton reflects that the City Council has been so busy that there hasn't been much time for eating, and suggests that the new year be started with proper regard for the stomach of man, as well as with attention to ordinances, resolutions and petitions in the hands of the law committee.

It is understood that the menu will be one of the choicest of the season, and will be served in the usual good taste.

THE NEXT HOLIDAY

Christmas with all its feasting and good cheer has come and gone. The next holiday we look forward to will be Decoration day, and with it come sad remembrances to many. There are none but would like to place some token of respect on the graves of their departed. In order to give all a chance to get something substantial, we will for the next thirty days make a special low price for work to be put up for Decoration day.

and all other monumental work in proportion. Now this does not mean cheap work, but the very best that can possibly be had in both material and workmanship.

We are manufacturers and have been in the business for thirty-five years and we claim to know what is the best. We are the only dealers in Ohio that can get the Georgia granite, which is positively the best granite known today for monumental purposes.

Come in and give us your order early, so that we can get your work up in good shape for Decoration day. Designs and estimates furnished for any kind of monumental work. Honest treatment our motto. THE McGLUE, STAR GRANITE CO., 3 and 5 South Fifth street. 12-23-30&1-1

COURT NEWS

Recurrence of Insanity.

J. J. Snyder, of Utica, a glass worker aged about 50 years, was brought into Probate court suffering from a recurrence of insanity. In 1907 he was sent to the State Hospital and was discharged from that institution in October of the same year. For some time past he has been acting strangely and has had all sorts of hallucinations, and imagined that everyone wanted to kill him. Drs. Harbottle, Hatch and Horner examined him and pronounced him insane. He was sent over to Columbus Wednesday.

Amount of Verdict Reduced.

In the case of Aaron K. Highbar against the Leonard Martin Construction company in the United States Circuit court, Judge Sater handed down an opinion overruling the motion for a new trial, and sustaining the verdict of the jury, however, reducing the amount of the verdict from $10,000 to $7,000. Jones & Jones and Russell & Horner attorneys for the plaintiff and Daugherty & Todd, of Columbus for the defendants.

BASE BALL A BOOSTER

Base ball as an advertising medium is becoming appreciated at its full value more and more each year. Nothing else will make the public at large so familiar with the name of a town as the fact that it has either a winning or a losing team.

The characteristics absolutely necessary for a permanent winner are largely reflected back upon the town, and newspaper readers or prospective settlers in the place form a large opinion of the progressiveness of its residents. It has been a large factor in the growth of many cities.

Street railway companies have appreciated the importance of the traffic to and from the base ball grounds and they frequently do much towards the organizing of a ball team. Thus, other increased transportation facilities multiply settlements and increase land values.

FARRELL'S BULLETIN

The latest bulletin issued by Secretary Farrell of the National association shows that several Ohio men have figured in recent trades and purchases:

Chattanooga has purchased Outfielder Gaston and Infielder Alcock from East Liverpool.

Dayton has sold Pitcher Tracy Johns to Omaha.

Springfield, Ill., has drafted Outfielder Calahan from Akron.

Dayton has drafted Catcher Brigger from New Castle.

Columbus has signed Catcher Harry Breymaier of Mansfield.

SHORT SPORT

Bernard E. Reilly, captain of last year's Yale freshman baseball team, has signed a contract to play shortstop for the Chicago White Sox next year. Two American league, two National league, three Eastern league and all the New England teams were after him.

With the acquisition of Roger Bresnahan the St. Louis Cardinals will have a high class backstop for the first time in seven seasons.

Detroit will have no trouble signing up Ty Cobb. The understanding of last year extends over this season and he will be handily brought into line.

Schall of Albany, in the New York State league, according to the dope, played 131 games this year without an error. The chances are that some scorers must have been very lenient for a record like this is almost impossible.

There is considerable talk of "Cy" Young following Lou Criger to St. Louis. It will be remembered by old writers that when "Cy" was purchased by Boston from St. Louis several years ago he stated that he never would go back to that town. Young can not stand the hot weather there and would be unable to do his best work playing half of his games on that field. "Cy" does not even like to pitch a game there.

Resolved

FIRST—That I will not idle away my odds and ends of time during 1909, as I have in the past.

SECOND—Resolved, That I will use this time in giving myself an education at home, that will be of the greatest possible use to me in the future.

THIRD—Resolved, That by the aid of the specially prepared instruction given by the INTERNATIONAL CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOLS of Scranton, Pa., I can and will so prepare myself during the coming year that my future will be assured, so that when I am 50, I will not be holding an inferior position.

Can you imagine any better resolutions than these? 4000 students voluntarily reported an increase in salary during the past year. Do you know any technically educated men who were out of work during the recent hard times? If so, were they not the last to go and the first to get back?

There is no course we teach that you cannot learn, if you can but read and write to start with, and will have the perseverance to stay with it.

This being a fact, I hereby resolve to wait no longer, but to call TODAY, on the local representative, W. S. MACHLEY, 2 North Park Place, and get a thorough explanation of the courses, methods of instruction, prices, terms of payment, etc.

EXTENSIVE REPAIRS FOR GRANVILLE LIGHT PLANT

Will Cut Off Number of Lights Temporarily---Member of Board of Public Affairs Resigns

Sunday School Entertainments---Dr. Geo. A. Dorsey, Curator of Anthropology of Field Museum, Visits Old Home at Granville.

Granville, O., Dec. 30.—For some time the boiler of the water and electric light plant, as well as an armature of the dynamo have been out of service, and to remedy matters an adjourned meeting of the village council was held Monday night. Several of the members were of the opinion that it would be the proper thing to purchase a new boiler and armature, while others thought they could be repaired. Several representatives of the General Electric company and the Ft. Wayne Electric company were present and gave opinions regarding the matter. The matter was argued considerably length by the solons, and resulted in council recommending that the board of public affairs cut off five of the lights now in use, temporarily; that the board of public affairs accept the armature that has been ordered from Cincinnati on a rental or that it purchase the same; that the board of public affairs purchase a new boiler at a cost not to exceed $1000, to be installed; that the council pay one-third of the cost and the board of public affairs pay the other two-thirds. The recommendations of council were adopted and an adjournment was taken after the resignation of C. J. Wright as a member of the board of public affairs had been accepted.

Several of the Sunday schools of the village have held their annual Christmas entertainments, and the sweet old story of the blessed Christ child has again been told in song and story, and the decorations were beautifully impressive of the message, "Peace on earth, good will to men." At the Baptist church Tuesday evening the children of the primary department of the Sunday school held their Christmas exercises. There was a large attendance and all thoroughly enjoyed the following very interesting program that was carried out:

Mr. Eleazar Evans, who resides in Centerville, two miles east of Granville, on the Granville and Newark road, was the recipient of a genuine surprise on Christmas night. The occasion was the anniversary of the birth of Mr. Evans, and this fact becoming known, his friends decided that the event should be properly celebrated. Accordingly, invitations were sent out, and Christmas night a large crowd of people, numbering at least 75, coming from Columbus, Patastala, Newark, Granville and other places met at the home of one of their number in Centerville and from that point proceeded to the home of Mr. Evans, all making with them well filled baskets. Mr. Evans acknowledged that he was the surprise of his life, but soon rallied and assisted by the members of his family, succeeded in giving the self-invited guests one of the times of their lives. One of the features of the evening was the splendid supper provided. At the close of the feast remarks of an interesting nature were made by a number of those present.

Dr. George A. Dorsey, curator of the anthropology in the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago, and who has just returned after a trip around the world, visiting all the out of the way places accessible, has just returned to this country. As soon as his feet touched his native shores his first thought was of the home in Granville, and he has been spending the last few days with his parents, Squire and Mrs. Dorsey. During the doctor's absence he entered regions never before penetrated by a white man. The result of his trip will mean much to the Field museum, for already sixty large cases of ethnological specimens have arrived in the museum. Prof. and Mrs. Johnson entertained on Tuesday evening all the out of town young people whom the professor has had from time to time in his classes. The evening was spent in conversation, and ice cream and cake were served. Dr. William Colwell, of Harvard, was among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dumack, of Lancaster, who have been visiting friends in the village during the past week, returned home Tuesday.
Miss Allie Morrison, of Detroit, Mich., is visiting relatives in Granville and vicinity.
Thomas Harrold, of Columbus, was in the village Tuesday on business.
Mr. Tallmadge, of Columbus, was in Granville Tuesday.
Master Commissioner Robbins Hunter, of Newark, heard the testimony in the case of the Granville Natural Gas and Fuel Company vs. the Village of Granville, Monday afternoon. After taking a considerable amount of testimony, an adjournment was taken until Friday at 10:30 o'clock, when the proceedings will be resumed and carried to a finish.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hite, of Columbus, spent Christmas in Granville, the guests of their grandchildren, Minnie and Thomas E. Hite, of Centerville street.

BEECH WOODS HAS EXCITING TIME LATELY

Over 200 People Search for Woman Who Wandered From Home—A New Broom Factory.

Thorntown, (Beech Woods), Dec. 29.—A great deal of excitement was occasioned here the night before Christmas when it became known that a woman who had been a patient at one of the state hospitals had disappeared from the home of a relative. A searching party was organized and nearly 200 participated, searching nearly all night long through the grenching rain which was falling. She was found the next morning drenched to the skin and returned to her relatives. Blood hounds from Lancaster were secured to assist in the search.

Beech Woods has a full fledged broom factory which will be known as the Winegardner Broom Factory. The machinery is first class and the company is making elaborate preparations to raise the famous evergreen broom corn the coming season.

The young Snider sisters were frightened almost into hysterics at the appearance of a Kris Kringle near the residence of Samantha and Anga Drum several evenings ago. Pandemonium broke loose while the jolly old fellow passed on snowing them liberally with candy, popcorn and nuts.

George Foster has been visiting in Van Wert the past week. Winegardner & Company struck a flowing well for Owen Hull at the depth of 148 feet. A 4-inch pipe capacity is required to carry off the water.

Wetzel Dupler, the Bruno implement dealer, has been in Cleveland this week. He remembered some of his friends with unique post card views from that city.

Levi Skirder and wife spent Christmas with Sam Cover and family.

Owen Cover and daughter Clara were visitors in Newark over Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. W. H. Miller commenced a protracted meeting at Redington Sunday evening, which will continue for the next ten days.

The revival services at the Oakthorpe C. U. church has been in progress nearly two weeks.

ST. LOUISVILLE.

EARTHQUAKE

ling of the mandolin and guitar, the bells of the quarter will toll a message of death and sorrow and the new year will be ushered in with Te Deums and solemn masses.

Out of the half million Italians living in Greater New York about 150,000 are Sicilians, whose dear ones at home lived in the earthquake stricken sections. Frantic with anxiety, throngs of weeping men and women are gathered today about the doors of the Italian consulate, shipping offices and Italian newspaper offices, hoping against hope to receive some word of the safety of those who waved farewell to them when they sailed from Italy's shores.

Rome, Dec. 30.—Latest reports received here state that 4,000 soldiers in the various barracks at Messina were buried under the ruins. The Rock of Charybdis now blocks the entrance to the Strait of Messina. The tidal wave wrecked the light-houses in the strait, including Faro Beacon, and they crashed into the sea.

The measure of the greatest tragedy which has ever befallen the Christian world cannot yet be calculated. It is known in general terms that out of a population of 1,750,000 in the devastated area at least 125,000 perished. This makes no account of dozens of towns near the center of the disturbance whence no word has come, and where there is only too good reason to fear there are no survivors to describe their fate.

The whole face of the country and the coast line have been altered. Even Scylla and Charybdis have changed the positions they occupied since Aeneas's legendary voyage.

The three provinces where the greatest damage was done are Messina and Catania, in Sicily, and Reggio di Calabria, on the main land. They comprise about 4,400 square miles. Several hundred persons perished and much damage was done outside these provinces, but within them the devastation was so complete that scarcely a human habitation remains. It will be days yet before the story of their destruction will be known.

The towns and villages on both sides of the Strait of Messina have been leveled to the ground, and nothing but ruins are left to indicate where they formerly stood. The coasts of Calabria and Sicily are separated by the narrow waters of the Strait of Messina, and were thickly populated. The earthquake has changed the aspect of one of the most picturesque and smiling places in southern Italy.

The ominous absence of details concerning Reggio proves to be due to the fact that not only the city itself, but its whole population, with the exception of a mere handful, has disappeared. The warships which were ordered to relieve the survivors were unable to approach the coast, owing to the changed configuration of the strait.

Ultimately a torpedo boat ran close to the coast, but was unable to discover a trace of the city. Where two days ago stood an aggregation of buildings and busy streets, there was nothing but rocks and earth. The city had vanished as completely as Aladdin's Palace under the magician's spell.

It is impossible, of course, as yet to speak certainly of what happened, but such observation as it is possible indicates that Reggio was completely swallowed by the earth collapsing beneath it, and the yawning sea was filled by the sea, which advanced in a huge wave there, as at Messina.

Only five survivors of the city's 50,000 inhabitants have yet been accounted for. These unhappy wretches reached Catanzaro and Palmi half-dead with fright. They were scarcely able to talk intelligently, but their incoherent stories are sufficient to confirm the horrible fate of the city. One of them was mainly impressed by having seen the sea cover the cathedral. The others were deafened by the roar of the sea and the falling houses, which they compare with the roar of heavy artillery.

The government is withholding the news concerning Reggio for the present, hesitating to publish the appalling tale until it is fully confirmed.

In view of the latest developments of the catastrophe, the death roll may well reach 125,000.

There were 150 guests at the Hotel Trinacria, at Reggio, 84 of whom were English and American. All of them perished.

The efforts to overcome the fire at Messina were fruitless, owing to the quantity of wood among the ruins. It is feared that many of the victims who were buried alive in the ruins have since been burned to death.

Survivors from Messina recount horrible tales. There were 200 policemen in one barracks, and all perished save 10. Many persons lost all their relatives.

The earthquake was followed by a floodburst, which nearly annihilated the survivors. Men and women were trampled in the streets. The rain continued. The streets are blocked with ruins, making it impossible to reach houses where many victims are buried.

RECEIVING CONTRIBUTIONS.
Washington, Dec. 30.—President Taft of the Red Cross society wired all states making contributions to the relief fund to forward to Washington and they will be sent to the Italian Red Cross society. All nations offer great financial aid. The United States will send at least $200,000. J. P. Morgan contributed $10,000.

THE NEWARK COLONY.
There are a number of Italians living scattered about the city of Newark in the various foreign settlements, who came here from the now devastated province of Messina, Sicily. Most of them have relatives living in or near the cities of Messina, in Sicily, or Reggio, in Italy. Their principal subject of discussion now is the terrible calamity that has befallen the coast provinces, and many of them are in a great state of excitement and worry, for fear their entire families have been numbered among the victims.

Louis George, a Sicilian who lives with three Italians in the rear of South Fourth street, near West Main and who is employed with them at the Everett bottle plant, has received no word from any of his relatives in the stricken district, and fears that they may all have been lost in the terrible ruin. He has been in America for three years and has seen none of his own family since he first left his home near Messina.

STORY OF 1908

Friday's Advocate will publish a brief but comprehensive review of the important events and tendencies of the year 1908. The review has been written by Edwin S. Potter, editor of the Universal News Analysis, and contains in the space of six columns the story of 1908.

THANKS DUE TO THE WEATHER MAN FOR SOAKING RAIN

Was Badly Needed and Will be a Blessing to All—General Over the County.

A good, soaking rain, just what has been needed in Licking county for more than a month, fell Tuesday night and Wednesday. Reports from all over the county are to the effect that the rain has been general and that the ground is thoroughly saturated. The streams have been replenished and many springs that were dry are gushing forth their life giving waters again. For some time past many farmers have been compelled to haul water considerable distances to feed stock, and they have been hoping that a good general rain would come before freezing weather set in. The present rain will be worth thousands of dollars to the farmers throughout the county.

ATTENTION, PASTORS OF COUNTRY CHURCHES

Newark, Dec. 30, 1908.
I am editing a new History of Newark and Licking County, that is to be published by a Chicago Publishing firm. This history will be full and complete, embracing every feature of interest and importance in the county—among them, an outline history of every church in the county—we do not want to miss one. Therefore, I ask you to kindly prepare me a brief history of the church of which you are pastor and send it to me as soon as possible, for our history. This history is going to be an elegant thing—you will want to be represented in it—and it will not cost you a cent to have your church history published in it. Please send it to me at once.

GREAT PROGRESS IS SHOWN DURING THE PAST YEAR

Ninety-seven Building Permits Issued and Total Value of New Structures Will Reach $200,000.

A glance at the building record in the office of the Board of Public Service shows something of the progress Newark has made in building lines during the past 12 months. In spite of the repeated declarations, by many who seem to know, that this city was still in the grip of the financial depression yet the stats in the building permit record show that this was one

SWISHER HOME
Kentucky firebug after the man had eluded pursuit for many months. The dogs and their keepers arrived in Newark about midnight and about 1 o'clock they were taken to the Swisher home. At the north porch the dogs took a hot trail leading to a fence in the rear of the lot. That they were not at fault was proved when a brown leather, nickel-trimmed cigar case was found lying close to the fence.

Up to the alley to Fourth street and then on a long run, they eventually stopped bewildered about 100 yards from the farm of Col. George Crawford, a mile and a half northwest of the city. Up to there they had followed the trail without difficulty, and stopping as suddenly as they did their keeper stated that the man had probably caught a wagon at this point.

They were returned to the Swisher home and again they followed exactly the same trail they had followed a short time before. At exactly the same spot they lost it again and refused to go farther.

To the police the leading of the trail to the farm of Col. Crawford has a peculiar significance, for Lowitt came to America about eight months ago with Col. Crawford when he returned with some horses he had purchased in Belgium. Lowitt's home is in Brussels, Belgium. The young man has been a good worker and was fully trusted by all members of the Swisher family.

Mr. John Swisher was interviewed by the police reporter of the Advocate Wednesday morning, and in answer to the questions asked he had the following to say:

"In regard to the brown leather, nickel mounted cigar case that was found at the fence, I never saw that in the possession of my chauffeur, but my son has. It may mean nothing, or it may mean much—as to that I am not prepared to state.

"The jewels stolen from my home consisted of three solitaire rings. There was one carat stone, one small stone, and one carat and a half stone. The brooch consisted of diamonds and pearls, with one large diamond in the center. The necklace was of gold with a locket attached, and the picture was that of my son Carl. One diamond was set in a Madonna's head."

Early last evening before the diamond robbery had been reported to the police, a telephone call came to police headquarters, purporting to be from Zanesville. The voice at the other end of the wire asked Wagonman Frank Brown if there had been a diamond robbery reported to the police. Officer Brown reported in the negative, and immediately called central to find if officers from that city had called the police here.

Both the local and the long distance girls did not remember having a call, but if they did they failed to remember from whence it came, and one good clue that the police had thrown before them was lost through the inability of the girls to remember the call. In all probability the call came from the thief or a confederate who was seeking to know if the police were on the track.
